Description

We are thrilled to introduce Villa Adela, a breathtaking Mediterranean-style villa situated in the highly sought-after residential area of Lomas del Rey in J avea, on the beautiful northern Costa Blanca. This single-story villa is ready to begin construction as soon as a buyer is secured, with all necessary building permits already in place. Its architecture captivates with a weathered white facade complemented by unique, hand-cut dry stone details in an elegant rounded design.

The villa's sophisticated interior boasts high-quality finishes, featuring microcement in the bathrooms and throughout the flooring, alongside oxidized double-glazed aluminum windows. Each bedroom is fitted with exterior electric shutters, while the bathrooms showcase modern black fixtures for a chic, contemporary touch.

The spacious open-plan living and dining area seamlessly connects to a fully equipped kitchen, providing direct access to the infinity pool and sunny west-facing terrace
